

Thank you for your email. You are right to point out the requirement of corroboration under Scots Law; however this can be achieved in a number of ways such as CCTV, Body Cameras, and witness testimony. The main purpose of policing is to prevent crime where possible and the objective in using the solo patrol strategy is to maximise the visibility of BTP's officers, reassure the travelling public and the rail industry and contribute to the aspiration to reduce crime.